Statement of Mr. H. D. McGee, Director of the House of Delegates, Jan. 28, 1868.

I have visited Dr. Lighthill at the McLure House and obtained his treatment for the cure of my Catarrh, and the result has been most successful. My case was a chronic and troublesome one, but by giving a course of his treatment, my Catarrh has been completely cured, and my health is restored.

Well Attended Cure of Catarrh.
DR. A. L. LIGHTHILL.—DEAR SIR:—Your treatment in the cure of my Catarrh has been the most successful. I have been suffering from this disease for many years, and it has been a constant source of trouble and distress. But by giving a course of your treatment, my Catarrh has been completely cured, and my health is restored.

The Printing of the Code.
To the Editor of the Intelligencer: I see in your issue of yesterday, in a letter from Mr. Fleming, Speaker of the House of Delegates, a most unjustificable and reckless attack upon myself in regard to the publication of the Code.
He deems it important and proper to enlighten the public upon a subject, and at once rushes into a public journal, charging that the chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and part of the Senate are guilty of trifling with the wishes, the convenience, and the interests of the State. Now I can inform Mr. Fleming that his letter in your issue of yesterday, is a most unjustificable and reckless attack upon myself in regard to the publication of the Code.

regard to the publication of the Code.

At the last session of the Legislature was introduced a bill for the purpose of providing for the printing of the Code as it came from the House, but it is well known this bill fell for lack of a majority. I have also been an active advocate of the bill before the present Legislature with the name of Mr. Fleming, but never designed to prepare an index for the Code.
This is well known to all the members of the Senate, and officers of that body.
Yet Mr. Fleming has never designed to enquire of me or the clerk of the Senate as to the cause of the delay in the publication of the Code.

The fact is the Judiciary Committee were divided upon it, I being in favor of the bill with Mr. Ferguson's name in it, while the Senate refused to pass the bill, and as a consequence, several days were lost. The Judiciary Committee reported back the bill with a substitute. This substitute was brought forth by Mr. Fleming's own Senate. I am not opposed to the bill, but I am opposed to the substitute which Mr. Fleming has brought forth.

Thus without any foundation or reason whatever, Mr. Fleming has sought to publish a falsehood in your issue of yesterday, and to misrepresent the principles of the radical liberalism which had been adopted in relation to religion, the press and education, by the Provisional Government, and to misrepresent the action of the deputies.
Our revolution here is not responsible for the rising in Cuba. That is due to the errors of the past government. I express the hope that the insurrection there would be speedily extinguished, and that tranquility based on reform would be durable. He predicted that slavery would be abolished without precipitation and without compromising the propriety of the Constitution.

He also predicted that the government would be able to pay the foreign nations as now more intimate than ever before.

It is encouraging to learn that a man like Mr. Fleming, who is in the upper of Congress, who, in case of a secession, would be able to take the obedience of the people, and who is

At the banquet to the Minister of Finance held last night, Mr. Gladstone remarked that the last House of Comernment had been brought to the bar of public opinion on the distinct issue and policy of the people, now most clearly defined.

MADRID, February 12.
The Constituent Cortes was formally opened yesterday with great ceremony.
The city was profusely decorated in honor of the event; crowds were in the streets; flags were flying, and the day was regarded as a holiday. Serrano delivered an address on the assembling of the Deputies.

At the meeting of the nations of Europe, in attaining a higher degree of civilization, threw off the traditional bonds, which fettered the public mind. Spain delayed for a long time following the example of her neighbors. She now calls on her representatives to construct a new edifice. The revolution has achieved a bloodless victory. The strength of the nation has not been impaired, but the extravagance of the former administration has been discarded, and its finances are sound.

The Government relies on the Cortes to remedy this by economical reforms and changes in the administration; by wise legislation in regard to the public debt and payment of the interest thereon, and by economizing the expenses of the army and navy. The fundamen-in the midst of the revolution, is able to do this. It is a credit to him, and a credit to the people.
